

UNIVERSITY OF
CAMBRIDGE

Faculty of Philosophy

The Leverhulme Trust

Leverhulme Public Lectures

Thought and language represent. In these lectures this insight will be applied to: the role of thought experiments, the topic of reference, ethical sentences, and the issues raised by the knowledge argument against physicalism. The lectures are, however, free-standing.

Frank Jackson
Leverhulme Visiting Professor

Wed 27 April: Thought Experiments

Mon 2 May: Reference for Representationalists

Wed 11 May: Reductionism in Ethics

Mon 16 May: A Priori Physicalism (or what to say about Mary)

5pm in Little Hall, Sidgwick